

Michigan Football Coach Looks Over Princeton Squad--Few Big Contests Listed on This Afternoon's Schedule

THIS IS A DAY FOR FOOTBALL REVENGE

Yale Seeks to Make Up for Defeat by Colgate Last Year.

ARMY FACES NOTRE DAME

By DANIEL.

This day brings the full before the storm in football. With the annual round of big game approaching, the more important events of this afternoon will meet comparatively weak opponents in order to conserve their resources for the greater struggle. Few games stand out in the schedule. Major interest is divided among the Yale-Colgate contest at New Haven, the intersectional tilt between the Army and Notre Dame at West Point and the Dartmouth-Syracuse meeting at Springfield.

Colgate comes to Yale with an enviable record both for this year and for previous seasons and appears capable of giving the Elis just such a test as they require. However, it looks as if Yale is strong enough to avenge the defeat by Colgate last November, when the Maroon scored by 15 to 0. In returning Springfield to two touchdowns last Saturday, Colgate impressed critics with the fact that it is far better developed on offense than in defense. The team that ought to be able to acquit itself well against such opposition.

The Elis have shown enough defensive strength to warrant the prediction that they will hold their own as well as they held Washington and Jefferson last week. Like St. Metzger's team, Colgate has organized a formidable forward passing attack, and it may score a touchdown or two, but the Blue should tally at least two touchdowns more than the Maroon. It should make a keen battle and a fine exhibition of football in which Yale is likely to learn a thing or two in the line of experience.

Army Should Win.

Like Yale, the Army has a defeat to avenge. In 1915, the Cadets were whipped by 7 to 0 last year. Jesse Harper again has brought East a well-balanced combination that has not been scored on by Notre Dame for some time. The Army has 25 points. However, Notre Dame has this year not met any enemy that compares with the Army.

In the main it has been an easy season for the Army. When called on to give the highest type of game they have responded. In Washington and Lee the Army faced a team which is about on a par with Notre Dame. The Southern were beaten by 14 to 7.

Notre Dame will undoubtedly open up a forward passing offense, in which it is one of the best. Since the attack prevents Notre Dame's main chance for success, for if it tries to match the Cadets in old line football it must itself be a touchdown. The Army should win by a touchdown.

A Chance for Syracuse.

If Dartmouth continues the fine work with which it disappointed Princeton last Saturday, it will be forced to accept another beating. Last year they fought to a scoreless tie and by marshalling its latent power, Syracuse made the most of it.

Things have not been going very well at the Salt City since the big upset at the hands of Pittsburgh. Last week, Michigan, Syracuse, and Princeton, in other words, and if Dartmouth triumphs to-day the Orange will be put into absolute eclipse. It is a big chance for Syracuse to retrieve some of its lost glory. Dartmouth comes up as a new powerful obstacle.

In its final contest before the game with Harvard, Princeton will tackle Brooklyn. The contest presents no particular difficulties for the Tigers, who will play the old conservative game. Eddy will start at quarterback, with the Navy his substitute. No changes are likely in the Princeton lineup.

Harvard should have an easy time with Virginia, which early in October Yale beat by 61 to 0. Since the Elis, Virginia has been reinforced by the addition of Allen Thurman, whose punting proved very disconcerting to the Blue and the Orange. When Virginia beat Yale and held Harvard to 0 to 0, Thurman's kicking may keep Harvard down to a small score.

Hard Game for Navy.

The Navy plays last to another strong rival in Washington and Lee. Since losing to the cadets and facing Rutgers, the Navy has been in a losing position. Last Saturday they held Georgia Tech, one of the strongest teams in Dixie, to a tie, 7 to 7. The game will turn on the line, as the Navy and give some small opportunity for comparison with the Army.

Rutgers and Holy Cross will play at Westbury, N. Y., to-day. Since the latter team has been playing at Westbury since last Saturday, they seem strong enough to win over the Worcester college. The contest will be a hard one.

Amherst looms up too strong for Trinity, which is very weak this year. It will be the last game of the season for Trinity. Williams and the college meet at Williamstown and the victory is likely to go to Wesleyan.

FORDHAM TEAM PREPARED.

Final Hard Drill Finds Eleven Ready for Georgetown.

Fordham yesterday completed its last hard workout in preparation for the Georgetown game on Election Day. Fordham does not play today but a long signal drill has been ordered for 3 o'clock.

The varsity and scrubs were kept on the go performing shifting formations from which a long diagonal pass was made by Dennis, McGinnis, and O'Connell with Demme, McNamara, O'Connell and Erwin swinging far around the ends looks like a troublemaker for Georgetown.

St. Perkins was kept at center yesterday in place of Treanor, who weighs only 165 pounds, and his weight may give him the edge on the line. Treanor, however, the Georgetown position. Anderson, the Georgetown center, weighs nearly 200 pounds and Coach Cargan feared the big difference in bulk would be a disadvantage for Perkins, whom he characterized as the gamiest man in the squad.

The idea that St. Perkins is only a light weight, eleven weeks ago, yesterday when the team averaged 172 pounds.

OLYMPIC FIELD GAMES.

The Philadelphia Gladiators, who early this season made an excellent record in a trip through western Pennsylvania and in Maryland, will make its first appearance in the Olympic field, to-morrow in the double header with the Lancaster Giants. The games for to-morrow were arranged here between the teams, and the weather conditions are favorable. Olympic field is said to hold a big crowd. The game will mark the end of the season for the Lancaster Giants. The game will be played at the home club in the second game. The first will start at 1:30.

IMPORTANT GAMES NOVEMBER WEST TO-DAY

Four undefeated Eleventh Will Play in Big Nine Title Contests.

MINNESOTA VS. ILLINOIS

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Four undefeated eleventh—Minnesota, Wisconsin, Ohio State and Northwestern—will appear to-morrow in games which will have an important bearing on the "big nine" championship football race.

The contest between Wisconsin and Ohio State at Columbus will hold most of the interest of Western football followers, as the beaten eleven of the latter has most all chance to finish at the top in the Western conference race. Ohio, the youngest member of the conference, has developed an eleven of great ability and will enter the game with a well fortified defense. The players have been practicing for ten days in preparation for the meeting with Wisconsin.

Wisconsin, if victorious, apparently will be the only eleven with a chance to overthrow Minnesota's early claim to the conference title. The Badger squad has attempted to build up a stronger line defense as a result of faults observed in the game with Chicago. The team is expected to bring a better game to the field to-morrow.

Illinois generally agrees that Minnesota will triumph over Illinois to-morrow, as the Gophers have rolled up overwhelming scores in their games. Illinois has displayed neither the defensive nor driving power of the eleven which tied Minnesota for the championship last year.

Northwestern, which has surprised Western football followers with its dashingly play, will collide with Indiana at Indianapolis. The Hoosiers eleven must win to remain in the race. Indiana is confident of victory as a result of the showing made against Tufts last Saturday.

Chicago will face Purdue at Chicago, but the game will have no bearing on the "big nine" race, as each of these eleven has been beaten by two conference rivals. Michigan, the conference champion, will play against Pennsylvania and Cornell, which will entertain the eleven from Washington University at Ann Arbor. The St. Louis team has a disappointing record showing in Missouri Valley conference games, but is heavy and plucky and ought to give Coach Yost's fighters considerable trouble.

BRADEN NOT TO PLAY IN COLGATE CONTEST

Hutchinson Will Be Used as Fullback To-day—Look for Hard Tilt.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 3.—Hutchinson will be back at fullback for Yale to-morrow in the game with Colgate, and Braden, of whom great things were expected, will be on the side line. Hutchinson has been at fullback the greater part of the week, but his playing has not been good enough to win the place from Braden. Hutchinson is expected to be in the center of the line for the next three games, but his place is at fullback.

Bingham, the regular left halfback, will not play to-morrow. Neville will start in his place. Neville will start for the past week with injuries, will start for the contest, but probably will retire soon in favor of Graham. Neville is expected to be in the center of the line for the next three games, but his place is at fullback.

This afternoon there was a long signal drill and some practice in breaking up the line. The team will be in the line for the game to-morrow and because of the fact that a few of the first string men will be out, the team is not entirely hopeful of coming out on top by a big score.

Army Ready for Notre Dame.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Army is ready for Notre Dame. The team is in the line for the game to-morrow and because of the fact that a few of the first string men will be out, the team is not entirely hopeful of coming out on top by a big score.

Long Workout at Stevens.

COLLEGE HOLDERS put the Stevens squad through the longest and stiffest workout of the season yesterday. The team is in the line for the game to-morrow and because of the fact that a few of the first string men will be out, the team is not entirely hopeful of coming out on top by a big score.

Knuth, Amherst Star, Hurt.

AMHERST, Mass., Nov. 3.—The chances for Knuth, Amherst star, in the game to-morrow are somewhat dimmed by a bad cold. Knuth is expected to be in the line for the game to-morrow and because of the fact that a few of the first string men will be out, the team is not entirely hopeful of coming out on top by a big score.

Way to Lead Penners To-day.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—The University of Pennsylvania is in the line for the game to-morrow and because of the fact that a few of the first string men will be out, the team is not entirely hopeful of coming out on top by a big score.

Wesleyan Line Strengthened.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Nov. 3.—Wesleyan's line is strengthened by the addition of a new player. The team is in the line for the game to-morrow and because of the fact that a few of the first string men will be out, the team is not entirely hopeful of coming out on top by a big score.

CAN ALBION Kick for Michigan.

ALBION, Mich., Nov. 3.—The football eleven of Albion is in the line for the game to-morrow and because of the fact that a few of the first string men will be out, the team is not entirely hopeful of coming out on top by a big score.

Indians Open Gate Filled.

CARLETON, Pa., Nov. 3.—The Carleton Indian football team is in the line for the game to-morrow and because of the fact that a few of the first string men will be out, the team is not entirely hopeful of coming out on top by a big score.

Brown Expects Easy Victory.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 3.—Brown expects an easy victory in the game to-morrow. The team is in the line for the game to-morrow and because of the fact that a few of the first string men will be out, the team is not entirely hopeful of coming out on top by a big score.

Yale Seeks to Make Up for Defeat by Colgate Last Year.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 3.—Yale is in the line for the game to-morrow and because of the fact that a few of the first string men will be out, the team is not entirely hopeful of coming out on top by a big score.

Army Should Win.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Army is in the line for the game to-morrow and because of the fact that a few of the first string men will be out, the team is not entirely hopeful of coming out on top by a big score.

Harvard Should Have an Easy Time with Virginia.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 3.—Harvard is in the line for the game to-morrow and because of the fact that a few of the first string men will be out, the team is not entirely hopeful of coming out on top by a big score.
